CHMIC provided a conservatively structured short-term mortgage that gave the clients the leverage they needed while keeping their cash investment low. With interest-only payments and fully open prepayment terms, the clients were able to purchase, renovate, and bring the property to market efficiently, all while maintaining flexibility for future investments.

The clients successfully completed the renovation and sold the property within 3.5 months, generating a strong profit with only a small initial capital investment.

This project reinforced how strategic financing and low-capital entry can unlock profitable real estate opportunities, while allowing investors to remain flexible and ready for their next deal.
